

CULT OF ECSTASY

The Emperor's Children have a storied history of using combat stimulants in their pursuit of perfection and none more so than the Cult of Ecstasy. Even at the cost of themselves these duellists will push the limits of their excess in search for that one moment of perfection in the battlefield. These warriors love nothing more than to lose themselves in the thralls of battle, their minds sharper than their weapons, blind to the consequences of their addictions.

DETACHMENT RULE

ADDICTIVE CONCOCTIONS

Devotees of Slaanesh adore excess in all things, and are renowned for their use of stimulants to become warriors deserving of their own pride.

At the start of your Command phase, select which Concoctions will be active for your army until the start of your next Command phase. To do so, either select one from the list below (you cannot select the same Concoctions more than once per battle), or randomly select two by rolling two D6. When doing so randomly, Concoctions you have previously selected can become active again, but if you randomly select one that is already active for your army, it has no additional effect.

1. Heliotrophos
Add 1 to the Attacks characteristic of melee weapons equipped by EMPEROR'S CHILDREN INFANTRY units from your army.

2. Anfrak Silk
Add 2 to the Movement characteristic of EMPEROR'S CHILDREN INFANTRY units from your army.

3. Cerebresec
Improve the Weapon Skill characteristic of melee weapons equipped by EMPEROR'S CHILDREN INFANTRY units from your army by 1.

4. Alacrine
Add 1 to the Toughness characteristic of EMPEROR'S CHILDREN INFANTRY units from your army.

5. Excelsor X
Add 1 to the Strength characteristic of melee weapons equipped by EMPEROR'S CHILDREN INFANTRY units from your army.

6. Quail
Improve the Ballistic Skill characteristic of ranged weapons equipped by EMPEROR'S CHILDREN INFANTRY units from your army by 1.

Overdrive
Once per battle at the end of the Command phase you may Overdrive. If you do, select a Concoction that isn't active for your army. Until the end of the battle, that Concoction is active and all melee weapons equipped by EMPEROR'S CHILDREN INFANTRY units from your army gain the [HAZARDOUS] ability.
